Biggest And Best Rotary Parade Yet

Blessed by perfect weather and ideal marching conditions the Haliburton Rotary club staged one of the grest parades and carnivals ever in their many years of ventures of this kind.

The old song "Everybody Loves a Parade," would seem to be the case as guests and residents from far and wide converged on the town long before parade time in order to get a good spot to watch the spectacle and no one went away disappointed.

The entries were all above average and the members of the Rotary club have every reason to feel elated at the splendid response they received to their plea in asking resort owners and merchants to participate and make this parade bigger and better than ever.

The floats were many and varied, some instructive, portraying life from the time of the redman to the space age. Other entries provided touches of humor. All in all it was a great effort.

We might add that judging the entries in a parade such as this was no easy task and the Haliburton Rotary club wish to thank Mr. Wills of New York, Mrs. Fricke of Cleveland and Mr. Adlam of St. Catharines who kindly gave their services in this capacity.

Due to the late arrival of the Lindsay Kavaliers band the parade was late in getting under way and the Haliburton Legion Band was asked to start it off and the hand this band and their majorettes received along the route surely was most encouraging to those who contribute much of their time and talents toward keeping the band intact.

Though the Kavaliers may have been a little late in arriving they are well worth waiting for with their snappy music, brilliant uniforms and fancy marching. They added greatly to the parade and following the march they put on some fine entertainment for the huge audience gathered in the community park.

Despite the success of the carnival we hear that the members of the local Rotary are of the opinion that improvements can be made to make this great annual event bigger and better and one of the changes being mooted is the route of the parade. If some of the members have their way we understand that next year's parade may start at the high school and come straight up Highland St. to Oak St. and thence to the community park. We are sure this route would be much preferred by marchers than the hilly circular route now followed.

We think much credit is due the local detachment of the O.P.P. for the splendid manner in which they handled the heavy traffic and parking problems that are bound to crop up on such an occasion as this.

Wilberforce To Hold First Carnival

The citizens of Wilberforce will see their first carnival held in their own home town on Friday evening, August 12. The carnival is being sponsored by the Monmouth community centre and the Haliburton branch of the Canadian Legion.

The big event, the first ever held in Wilberforce, will be at the Wilberforce community centre at 8 p.m. From all reports there will be games and plenty of entertainment for one and all and at 9.30 the Haliburton Legion Band will strike up to play some lively marches and well known musical selections. The big night will also offer a draw for a $100 bond.

So let's put this date down and make it a point to drive out to Wilberforce for this gala night. The date again is Friday evening, August 12.

WHAT DYSART COUNCIL DID

Dysart municipal council held a special meeting on Saturday, July 30 commencing at 9.30 a.m. All members were present.

Permission was given the Salvation Army to hold a tag day on August 6.

A motion was passed granting McKay, Anderson & McKay permission to complete the Redstone brook culvert by sub-contract.

We might say that the contractors who took the contract to build the culvert at a figure away below local bidders, are unable to complete the job despite the fact that last year's council made them a present of a sum of $1,200. However this year's council are anxious to have this matter cleared up and the company that assumed the bond for the defaulting company will, we presume have to make up the amount necessary to complete the job.

A resolution was proposed and carried to the effect that Amy Hutchings be paid the sum of $15 for the rental of property on the Donald and Haliburton road. Property to be used by the municipality for the stock piling of mulch.

Members of the council were the guests of the Haliburton Lake Cottagers' Association on Saturday, July 16 and report having spent an enjoyable afternoon.

Problems effecting this subdivision were discussed and council no doubt would gain a better insight into the views of the various cottage owners.

On Sunday, July 17 reeve Holly Sisson met with the cottagers on the Cowling subdiivsion and from the comments of the cottage owners this gesture was greatly appreciated.

Visits such as these at least dispel the idea that the only interest council has in the cottage owner is to see how much taxes they can get and how little they can give.

From comments we have heard from different cottage owners the time the reeve and council spent in this connection was well spent.

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Howard Thompson Sr. of R.R. 1, Haliburton. Mrs. Thompson was the lucky winner of the boat and motor which was the grand prize offered on the draw held on the final night of the Haliburton Rotary carnival.

Mrs. Thompson was not at the carnival and when phoned about her luck she immediately came out to get her prize.

The winning ticket was sold by Jim Best and the ticket was No. 155C.

Doc Williams Coming To Minden Centre

Doc Williams and the "Border Riders," stars of the WWVA Jamboree are coming to the Minden centre on Wednesday, August 17.

Chickie Williams, the "Beyond the Sunset" girl, will be featured plus "The Sisters Three," a vocal group.

And as an added attraction the amazing "Little Mose" will defy anyone to lift him against his will. Little Mose who weighs only 100 pounds, has baffled scientists the world over.

Don't miss the big two hour show and dance in the Minden centre.

Tuesday Noon Is The Deadline

Trying to beat a deadline is quite some task at any time and in order to come anywhere close to doing so means that advertising matter must be in not later than Tuesday noon. Despite the fact that we have time and again made this known we still have people calling after the Tuesday noon deadline wanting us to squeeze advertising in here and there.

This cannot be done unless space has been reserved ahead of time.

So again we must say if your advertisement is not in by Tuesday noon you are simply out of luck.

MINDEN MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Minden, July 28 — Gordon Reil of Gooderham was found guilty of causing a disturbance at the Skyline dance hall in Gooderham. On July 16 the accused demanded entrance to the hall without paying admission and when refused became very abusive. He was forcibly removed by O.P.P. officer Earl Bush and taken into custody. He was fined $50 plus $29.60 costs and was forbidden access to the dance hall.

Ronald Mintz, 17, also of Gooderham, pleaded guilty to consuming liquor while still a minor. Mintz claimed he had found the beer cooling in a culvert on the Bear Lake road. He was fined $50 plus $24 costs and was also forbidden to go to the dance hall.

Robert Bruce Stocks of Oak Ridges was charged with careless driving after his car was in collision on the Gelert road with a car driven by Miss Evelyn Hall of Burlington. The charge was reduced to failing to share the road and he was fined $15 plus $64 costs.

Glen Ried of Toronto pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless driving, resulting from a collision with Lester Hicks of Ingoldsby on the Ingoldsby road. The road was being prepared for paving and eight feet of the road was piled with mulch. Magistrate Moore ruled the accused was driving too fast for the condition of the road. He was fined $15 plus $78 costs.

Patrick John Machie of Toronto pleaded not guilty of careless driving resulting from a charge laid when he lost control of his car on the Maple Lake road east of Carnarvon. On July 2 at 12.45 a.m. he was proceeding towards Maple Lake when his car skidded 128 feet and rolled over in the ditch. As no other car was involved and Mr. Machie's car never left its own side of the road, the charge was reduced to speeding. He was fined a total of $28.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER . . .

The tourist season is at its height. Tuesday was in fact about the busiest day here this season. Most business men say that business was down considerably from last year during the first two weeks of July, but things have picked up greatly since the middle of the month. Most are of the opinion that August will be up quite a bit over a year ago.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Laura Brohm has not been in the best of health lately, but at time of writing she would appear on the road to recovery.

The Baptist church and property at the foot of Highland St. has been sold to Whitfield Plumbing and Heating who, we understand intend to convert the building into a garage. The construction of a new Baptist church in Haliburton will get under way shortly.

Construction of new homes in Haliburton have been few and far between, but Mr. Tom Lane is building a new home on Mountain St. and Mr. Rex Boice is constructing a new residence between the properties of Dr. H. E. Good and Frank Litt.

Civic holiday was not observed as a public holiday in our village but we understand that we are to observe Monday, September 26 as such. This idea has been tried in other places who cater to tourists and it has been found to work out very satisfactory.

WEDDING

Carpenter - Gaynor

A pretty wedding took place in St. James Anglican Church at Fenelon Falls on Saturday, July 23 at 4 p.m. when Mary Jean, eldest daughter of Mrs. Gaynor and the late Bert Gaynor of Fenelon Falls became the bride of Ivan Edward, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carpenter of Ingoldsby.

Entering on the arm of her brother, Mr. Lloyd Gaynor, to the wedding march, played by Mr. Jack Marshal, the marriage ceremony was conducted by Rev. H. H. Lennox of Toronto.

The bride chose a ballerina length gown of white nylon net and rayon lace over rayon satin Her double tier finger tip veil trimmed with rhinestones and sequins, was held in place by a scalloped tiarra of sequins, pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis and white mums, bowed with white streamers.

The maid of honor was Mrs. Doris Gaynor, sister-in-law of the bride. She was gowned in blue nylon and lace with blue feather hat, white shoes and gloves. She carried a bouquet of yellow mums and flags, bowed with pink ribbon.

The three bridesmaids were Ruth Gaynor and Sandra Cochrane, sisters of the bride, and Fern Carpenter, sister of the groom. They looked lovely being gowned alike in blue nylon with blue feather hats and white shoes and gloves. Each carried a bouquet of yellow mums and pink carnations, bowed with yellow ribbon.

The two little flower girls, sister and cousin of the bride, were Debbie Cochrane and Penny Gaynor. They looked very sweet in yellow nylon dresses. Each carried a basket of mauve flowers.

The best man was Mr. Douglas Carpenter, brother of the groom.

The ushers were Mr. Allan Gaynor, brother of the bride, and Mr. Peter Robinson, brother-in-law of the groom.

After the wedding ceremony about 40 relatives enjoyed a dainty buffet lunch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gaynor of Fenelon Falls.

The bride's mother wore a blue nylon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white and pink roses.

The groom's mother wore a yellow nylon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white and pink roses.

Wedding guests were from New York, Toronto, Cannington, Coboconk, Norland, Lochlin, Haliburton, Ingoldsby and Fenelon Falls.

The gifts were numerous and well chosen.

Immediately after the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. They are taking up residence in Fenelon Falls. Our good wishes go with them.

CHAPTER 3

"BIRTH OF A VILLAGE"

The County of Haliburton and the village located on the shores of Head Lake in the Township of Dysart derived their names from one of the directors of the first chairman of the Canadian Land and Emigration Co., the noted Canadian historian and humorist, Thomas Chandler Haliburton, who in 1842 himself emigrated to London from Nova Scotia where he had served as judge of the supreme court.

Born in Windsor, N.S., in 1796, he was called to the bar in 1820 and promoted to the bench in 1828. The following year he published an historical and statistical account of Nova Scotia but he did not hit his literary stride until he created the whimsical Yankee clockmaker, "Sam Slick," through whom he expressed satire and pungent humor. "The Clockmaker or Sayings and Doings of Samuel Slick of Slicksville" was published in 1837. It was followed by "The Attache or Sam Slick in England" and "Sam Slick's Wise Saws."

Haliburton spent the remainder of his life in England and never saw the rugged highlands or the town upon which he bequeathed his name. After his death in 1865 his widow, Mrs. Haliburton, endowed St. George's Anglican Church at Haliburton with an organ.

Records do not agree on the date when St. George's, Haliburton's first church, was built. Those in the possession of Mr. Ronald Curry who is the curator of the Rotary club's historical department give 1865, but a clipping (to be quoted later) which covers an address delivered by Mr. C. R. Stewart at the end of 1864 states definitely that the church had already been built.

This church, 16 feet by 24 feet, was constructed of hand hewn logs, squared with a broad axe. Previous to the arrival of the first Anglican missionary, the Rev. Frederick Bart in 1865, services were conducted by Mr. Edward Miles, a surveyor of the emigration company. They were attended by all the settlers irrespective of faith.

Dr. Peake, one of the emigrants, led the choir with an accordian mounted on a frame which was worked by a treadle. His repertoire consisted of only two numbers, "The Evening Hymn" and "Men of Harlech," but nobody complained for they substituted enthusiasm for variety.

The little log church was eventually replaced by a fine frame building overlooking Head Lake designated by the architect John Belcher of Peterboro. It contained Mrs. Haliburton's organ. Unfortunately this historic structure which served the community for over 50 years was burned to the ground on Sunday morning, January 25, 1920.

The present Anglican church in red brick was constructed by Mr. E. Fetterley. It was opened by Bishop Sweeney of Toronto on the morning of October 24, 1923 in the presence of a large congregation which included the rural dean of Haliburton, the Rev. J. H. Stringer.

The first resident manager of the Canadian Land and Emigration Co. at Haliburton village was Charles R. Stewart who came to Canada as the company's agent in 1862. Previous to his employment with the land company he was engaged in literary work in London. He was also a provincial land surveyor and evidently did a great deal of preparatory ground work before the first settlers arrived in 1863.

His wife, Teressa M. Stewart, was the daughter of Col. R. Fotheringham of the East India Service with relatives who attained distinction in the church and army.

Mrs. Stewart, who was born in Southampton, England, came first to Bobcaygeon where she waited until a home could be prepared for her in the newly established village of Haliburton. Then this intrepid lady who as the wife of a literary figure had graced the salons of London's society stepped aboard the royal mail stage which traveled once a week over the corduroy roads between Bobcaygeon and Minden which were so rough that a passenger ran the danger of being literally shaken to pieces.

There is a story extant that a widely traveled Minden trader known locally as "Uncle Jim Welch" who bought furs and traded horses through the county once traveled a particularly perilous trail across the Rocky Mountains. He asked the driver of the stage if he had ever driven a rougher road. "Yes," answered the seasoned veteran of a thousand primitive trails, "The Bobcaygeon Road!"

One writer in 1864 observes that nearly every house along this thoroughfare sold beer and whiskey (without license). It is highly doubtful if Mrs. Stewart, who was for years the organist and choir leader at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Bobcaygeon, took advantage of these opportunities for "refreshment."

Pensioners from the British army, most of the settlers along the road had been awarded land grants for good service rendered during the Crimean War. One wonders what kind of land was given to those whose conduct was bad? The land was so unfertile that it was said the land owners wished they had brought the cannon captured in the Crimea with them to shoot the seeds into the ground which was too hard to be cultivated by ordinary methods.

These free land grants were surveyed in 50 acre sections and every recipient owned two sections—a total of 100 acres. The canny owners always claimed when showing their property to prospective buyers that the back fifty was "Just splendid for farming."

The whole region had formerly been heavily timbered with first quality white pine. It was ruthlessly cut and burned to make clearings for the so-called farms.

By 1870 the luckless veterans of Sebastopol and Balaklava had seen their dreams of prosperity become nightmares of want and privation. Those who were able deserted their grants for greener pastures. Instead of reforestration with white pine which could have spelled prosperity for future generations the land was allowed to re-clothe itself with worthless brush.

At Minden, Mrs. Stewart probably gathered her heavy skirts about her with a sigh of relief as she stepped stiffly from the stage. How she must have appreciated the famous hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Buck who were the early proprietors of Minden's first hotel.

A writer of the time mentions that Mrs. Buck and her husband were one of the handsomest couples in the district and that their table was anticipated and lauded through 23 townships.

Mr. Buck was a noted wit and a fast man with a pun. Once while on his way to a mill he had purchased on Boskong, he stopped at the home of one of the settlers who, as the custom in those hospitable days, invited Mr. Buck to step into the house and meet his wife. The lady was baking bread and at the completion of the introduction she proffered her sticky hands with the apology "I'm sorry I can't shake hands with you sir, but as you can see I'm all dough."

"Oh that's all right," laughted the gallant gentleman, as he took her hand, "I'm all Buck."

It must have been with a mixture of reluctance and anticipation that Mrs. Stewart boarded the next stage which would transport her the four torturous miles to the foot of Kashagawigamog where a boat was waiting to carry her to her new home in the wilderness of Haliburton of which one old hunter was heard to remark: "It's only fit for damned fools and bears."

I wonder if the prevailing west winds were blowing during her 16 mile voyage up the lakes? It would be pleasant to think that the sun shone a special benediction on her that day and that the skyscape of sculptured clouds was reflected in the tranquil waters of a smiling lake.

Bobcaygeon in 1863 and 1864 must have been quite primitive in comparison with London but did it prepare her for the raw clearing and the cluster of log shanties which greeted her eager eyes? It must have taken a great deal of fortitude to open the door of her first home in Haliburton. Probably she had a servant to help with the housework, but like many another pioneer housewife, she must have secretly cussed those wide pine floor boards which had to be scrubbed with so much woman power if they were to be kept the shade of white acceptable to early domestic standards.

Mr. C. R. Stewart purchased the Bobcaygeon Independent from Mr. E. D. Hand in 1872. Mrs. Stewart was associated with that paper for 42 years so it must be assumed that like her talented husband, she too had some literary ability.

How priceless to us a century later would be the letters Mrs. Stewart must have written to her friends and relatives concerning her adventures in the frontier village of Haliburton. Her comments on the society of the times would clarify a situation which now can be seen only "as through a glass darkly."

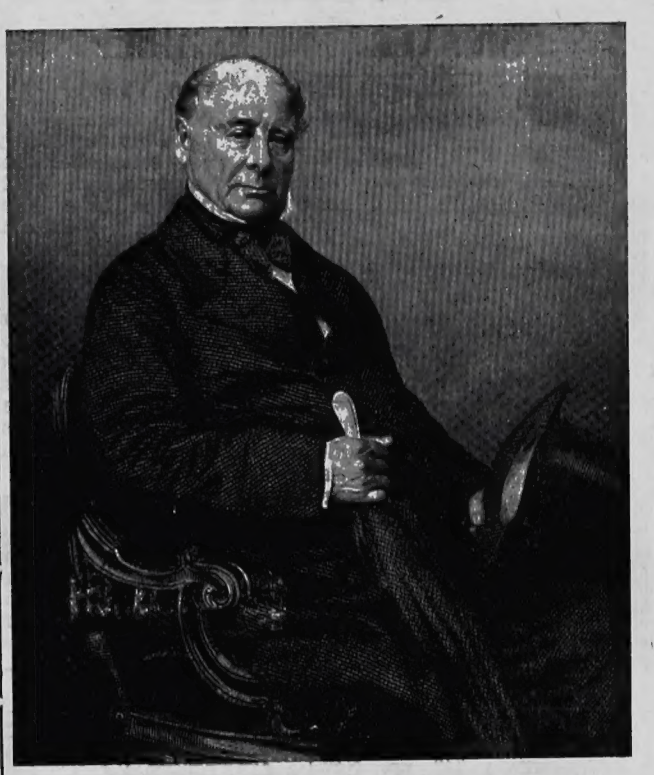
As early as 1863 the Canadian Land and Emigration Co. started to fulfill their share of their bargain with the government whereby they were allowed to purchase the 10 townships for a minimum amount if, within a specified number of years they brought out emigrants, built saw mills, grist mills and roads.

One of the most noteable news clippings to come to the writer's attention contains part of an actual address delivered to Mr. Charles R. Stewart when the construction of the sawmill was completed near the end of 1864.

The sawmill was built and operated by Capt. John Lucas who was elected reeve of the Municipality of Dysart by acclamation at its inception in 1867. Capt. Lucas took up land in the Township of Anson near the village of Minden but when opportunity and the Canadian Land and Emigration Co. beckoned he moved in 1864 to Haliburton. He was joined there by his wife Eliza and five children, Alice, Mary Agnes, John Albert, Ellen Jane and Margaret Victoria.

The sixth Lucas child, William Evans, born March 9, 1865, was the first white child to be born in the village of Haliburton.

Prior to his arrival in the county Capt. Lucas served as an officer in the merchantile marine and in the course of his travels which covered most of the globe, he was present during two gold rushes in California and Australia. It was said of him that he was one of the most popular and widely known men north of Bobcaygeon.



THOMAS CHANDLER HALIBURTON

The address to Mr. Stewart opens by speaking in very complimentary terms of Mr. Stewart's efforts and exertions to further the interests of the new settlement. It goes on to say: "During the past one and a half years this settlement has made a marked and rapid progress, a sawmill and gristmill have been built, many miles of excellent roads have been constructed, the village of Haliburton has sprung into existence, a church, schools, post office and agricultural society have been established and a foundation of solid character has been laid for a thriving and prosperous settlement."

It is said that Edward Pockett, who came to Canada from Belfast in Northern Ireland to settle with his family on a farm north of the Evergreen cemetery in Dysart township, was the first white man to fall a tree in the village of Haliburton.

The clipping goes on to say that on the evening when the address was delivered, those who signed it were having a social cup of tea together in Capt. Lucas' log shanty on the banks of the river overlooking the mill when one of Minden's original settlers, Harry Dawkins, arrived from Minden with the first official mail bag which with due ceremony he handed to Mr. Stewart amidst the loud cheers of the eager audience.

In 1864 mail took four days to travel from Haliburton to Toronto.

In the beginning of the settlement an agent of the emigration company acted as postmaster.

Mr. James R. Erskine, who in later years acted both as councillor and reeve, opened a thriving blacksmith shop in 1865. Mr. Erskine was one of the founders of L.O.L. 975 in Haliburton and until his death at the age of 80 he took an active interest in the affairs of the Orange order.

The ownership of the first general store must have achieved some sort of a record for brevity. It was operated for three weeks by Charles Edward Stewart, a son of C. R. Stewart, who sold stock, good will, etc., to Adam Garratt for the munificent sum of $10. Mr. Garratt increased the stock and extended the business. He also opened a boarding house which he operated until he migrated to the Canadian north west. Samuel Pockett opened a tavern in the early years. Old records mention a store opened by Mr. James Dover in 1867 and one operated by Mr. Young in 1868.

One of the most important events in 1865 was accomplished by the efforts of the emigration company, who constructed a road which branched off from the Bobcaygeon road two miles south of Minden village. It crossed via South Lake and Ingoldsby, progressing up Connor's Hill, (now Gould's Crossing) and continued east to intersect the Buckhorn road at what was later called Gainforth's Corners. It proceeded north from thence to the village of Haliburton. Since practically all supplies were bought in Peterboro and Bobcaygeon and had to be hauled by oxen and horses, this wagon road was of paramount importance to the growth of the village.

The lumber and timbers for the dam and the lower part of the water powered saw mill built by Mr. Lucas near the site of the present W. O. Bailey & Sons' mill were laboriously sawn by two men with what was known as a "pit saw."

A grist mill as also constructed for in the days prior to the opening of the great prairie wheat fields, all the flour used in the county was locally grown and ground.

The grist mill at Haliburton does not seem to have lasted as long as the Minden mill, which was built in 1864 by Hugh Workman on a site near the present hydro dam. This mill manufactured for local use corn meal, rolled oats, wheat flour, buckwheat flour (which is still remembered for its special flavor) and grist. The late Thomas Stinson purchased this mill and replaced the stone grinding equipment with the more modern roller process. For years it converted both Haliburton grown and imported wheat into a "sunrise" flour, popular in all the stores of the neighboring villages.

The Goodman carding mill a mile farther up the river, processed raw sheeps wool into yarn. The finished product warmed hands and feet through 23 townships. In later years it was operated by Lew Best.

Co-operatives are not such a new thing after all. The better part of a century ago a cheese factory owned by the patrons was situated on the farm opposite the Minden public school. Mr. M. Brown was secretary treasurer of the undertaking which was operated only in the summer. Mr. Brown arranged sales of the cheese, paid the manufacturers who at different times were Messrs. Reed. Lapp and Clark, the men who drew the milk to the factory and he distributed the balance to the shippers on the basis of milk delivered to the factory.

Mr. Clayton P. Rogers of Carnarvon remembers his fathers elation after a shareholder's meeting at which Mr. Brown reported that he had secured a price of seven cents a pound for the cheese. The net price to the farmer per quart was two or three cents. Mr. Rogers recalls that Mr. Dave Whistle for years gathered the 180 to 190 pound cans on the Scotch line route (concession 4, Anson). A load consisted of eight to ten heavy cans.

Mr. Charles R. Stewart, who wrote the section on the history of Haliburton in the "History of Peterboro County" published in 1884, mentions that in July of that year he was impressed by the quantity of butter imported by rail to Toronto and observes it is indicative of Haliburton's dairy capacity.

In Memoriam

Stevenson—In loving memory of a dear son, Hartley Stevenson, who died August 1, 1959:

This month comes with deep regret,
It brings back a day we shall never forget,
You fell asleep without saying goodbye,
But our memory of you will never die.
—Lovingly remembered by mother and brothers.

Stevenson — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Hartley Stevenson, who passed away August 1, 1959:

Swiftly, silently came the call,
Without saying goodbye you left us all;
In God's garden now at rest,
Peacefully sleeping lies one of the best.
—Ever remembered by his wife Lillie and son Ronnie.
